2. Outcome Guarantee and Estimated Length of Time

As the particular issues involved in each individual case vary from case to case, we cannot guarantee a specific outcome or accurately predict how long it will take. To complete the dispute process such may take approximately twelve months. On average, clients remain active for 6 to 8 months, although for each individual case, this average can be reduced or extended based upon the promptness of the client to forward necessary information and upon the number and circumstances of the issues being disputed on the individual's credit report.

3. Cost for Services

The total amount charged to you will depend on how many items on your credit report(s) you choose to have us correct or have investigated. CRA charges you only after an item is deleted/corrected. Based upon what you have told us about your credit situation it is estimated that the total charge for your services can be calculated by using the following chart:

of items chosen by you to delete	X $99.00 (or $89.00 when you sign-up with your spouse)	= An estimate of Total Cost

Please understand that this is an estimate only and based on the types of services CRA will provide to you, CRA is unable to give you a fixed amount that you will pay CRA upon the conclusion of CRA's services.

This payment covers all of the work fully and completely rendered as described in Paragraph 1, CRA's Scope of Services, section titled "pay for results" and "Optional credit essentials" are due at the completion of each deletion/correction or Optional service completed.

In the event of any disagreement, claim or dispute between the parties arising out of or relating to this agreement or the breach, termination, enforcement, interpretation, consistency or validity thereof, including any determination of the scope or applicability of this agreement to arbitrate, we'll try to resolve it by talking with each other. If we can't resolve it that way, WE BOTH AGREE, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, TO USE ARBITRATION, NOT LAWSUITS (except for small claims court cases for so long as the matter is in regards to your failure to pay us for our services and remains an individual claim and remains in small claims court) And shall be determined by arbitration in Laramie County, Wyoming or in the county in which the consumer resides, in accordance with the Laws of the State of Wyoming for agreements to be made in and to be performed in Wyoming. The arbitrator shall be neutral and independent and shall comply with the AAA code of ethics. The award rendered by the arbitrator shall be final and shall not be subject to vacation or modification. Judgment on the award made by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction over the parties. If either party fails to comply with the arbitrator's award, the injured party may petition the circuit court for enforcement. The parties agree that either party may bring claims against the other only in his/her or its individual capacity and not as a plaintiff or class member in any purported class or representative proceeding. Further, the parties agree that the arbitrator may not consolidate proceedings of more than one person's claims, and may not otherwise preside over any form of representative or class proceeding. The parties shall share the cost (not attorney's fees) of arbitration equally. Binding Arbitration means that both parties give up the right to a trial by a jury. Consumer Credit File Rights Under State and Federal Law

You have a right to dispute inaccurate information in your credit report by contacting the credit bureau directly. However, neither you nor any 'credit repair' company or credit repair organization has the right to have accurate, current, and verifiable information removed from your credit report. The credit bureau must remove accurate, negative information from your report only if it is over 7 years old. Bankruptcy information can be reported for 10 years.

You have a right to obtain a copy of your credit report from a credit bureau. You may be charged a reasonable fee. There is no fee, however, if you have been turned down for credit, employment, insurance, or a rental dwelling because of information in your credit report within the preceding 60 days. The credit bureau must provide someone to help you interpret the information in your credit file. You are entitled to receive a free copy of your credit report if you are unemployed and intend to apply for employment in the next 60 days, if you are a recipient of public welfare assistance, or if you have reason to believe that there is inaccurate information in your credit report due to fraud.

You have a right to sue a credit repair organization that violates the Credit Repair Organization Act. This law prohibits deceptive practices by credit repair organizations.

You have the right to cancel your contract with any credit repair organization for any reason within 3 business days from the date you signed it.

Credit bureaus are required to follow reasonable procedures to ensure that the information they report is accurate. However, mistakes may occur.

You may, on your own, notify a credit bureau in writing that you dispute the accuracy of information in your credit file. The credit bureau must then reinvestigate and modify or remove inaccurate or incomplete information. The credit bureau may not charge any fee for this service. Any pertinent information and copies of all documents you have concerning an error should be given to the credit bureau.

If the credit bureau's reinvestigation does not resolve the dispute to your satisfaction, you may send a brief statement to the credit bureau, to be kept in your file, explaining why you think the record is inaccurate. The credit bureau must include a summary of your statement about disputed information with any report it issues about you.
